Landing on Federation StarDock

You bring your ship into approach for the Federation StarDock.

This has to be the single, largest man-made object you've ever seen. It continues on for miles and contains the factories for all of the major brands of Space-going craft. Since the materials wars of 1998 on Earth, all ship builders relocated here. You've heard many strange stories about the people and places here, but you haven't found many of either, yet.

You lose sight of the boundless reaches of space as your craft descends amongst the giant buildings onto a landing pad.

"All systems secured, welcome to StarGate Alpha I", comes over your ship's intercom.

One turn deducted, 1054 turns left.

<StarDock> Where to? (?=Help) G

You enter the most majestic building of all on the Stardock that by its size and grandeur can be nothing but a bank. Business is indeed good in the world of finance as you have to wait in line for almost 15 minutes to reach an automated teller, a TellBorg.

An automated TellBorg turns towards you.

NOTICE: If you remain in this sector you will be in violation of U.F.P. Regulation number FS-32.4b which limits the number of ships that may remain parked in a FedSpace sector. Violation of this regulation will cause immediate eviction from the sector of FedSpace as soon as a Federation Ship becomes aware of the infraction. FS-32.4b limits squatters to 0 per sector.

30/09/2012
